Dear Families,

It seems like we have been out of school for a month when it has only been a week. Thankfully, the faculty and staff had a full day on Monday to work together to learn more about the technology needed to deliver an online program in as appropriate at each level.

The faculty and staff have been in continuous communication with each other and with students/parents. Everyone has been creatively and practically thinking of ways to connect and make learning meaningful in these unique and challenging times. We all are understanding firsthand how challenging it is to help child(ren) remain engaged and happy, while trying to work from home at the same time. Our teachers are also coping with these same struggles, but somehow are making it all work.

The feedback I have received from families, teachers, and staff is that we are grateful and appreciative for each other. We are so amazed by the teachers and their dedication and hard work on behalf of their students. They completely immersed themselves in learning what is needed to give what we can to our students and families.

I wish I could tell everyone how long this is going to last, but like all of you, I don't know. From what I heard this morning, it sounds like we may be out of school until at least Monday, April 20.

We will be reaching out to you next week to see how you all are doing.

The teachers said they are appreciative of your support. We miss our children very much and can't wait for things to get back to normal.

Sincerely,
